Italian Version of Cadsoft Envisioneer™ Released

September 2, 2008, Guelph, Ontario — Cadsoft Corporation, the leading developer of design software for the professional building market, is proud to announce the release of an Italian version of Envisioneer.

Thanks to a partnership with Tecnobit Software of Bassano del Grappa, Italy, Envisioneer will now be available to the Italian market, giving it an even greater international presence.

"We are extremely pleased to have Tecnobit as our partner to help bring our new Italian version of Envisioneer to market," says Brad Finck, VP Business development for Cadsoft. "As Envisioneer continues to become localized for even more international construction markets, its power and versatility gains greater global recognition."

"Envisioneer's introduction into the Italian market is exciting for us," says Marco Rossi, Marketing & Sales Manager of Tecnobit. After evaluating the design software marketplace, Envisioneer clearly emerged as the product of choice for our clients and we are pleased to be bringing the new Italian version to market."

Italian Envisioneer is available immediately through Tecnobit and the authorized Italian business partner channel. For more information, visit www.cadsoft.com and www.tecnobit.info.
